SO, WHAT'S THE CALL?

During a recent chess match Player A maneuvers his knight. Unsure of his strategy, he keeps his finger on it knowing it is not an official move until he removes it.

However, the Huevos Rancheros he snarfed down at breakfast erupts in his stomach.

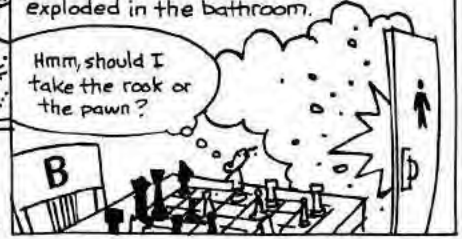

Unable to hold it in, yet still reconsidering his move, Player A lops off his finger and Crazy Glues it to the knight while making a mad dash for the Li'l Chess Players Room.

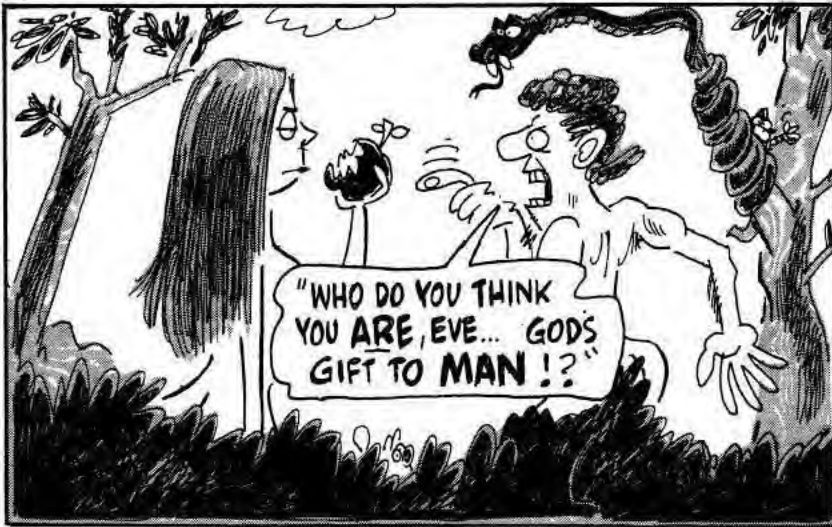

SO, WHAT'S THE CALL? Must the finger on the knight actually be attached to the body of the player, or can it be left to its own devices?

Rule [(7)] AEIOU & sometimes Y of the Chess Player's Manual doesn't mention this possibility, nor does any other rule, as the game's founders weren't clever enough to foresee such an occurrence. However rule 5*3&6 was used to disqualify Player B who left after waiting 6 hours for the finger to make a move after Player A exploded in the bathroom.

Hmm, should I take the rook or the pawn?

LETTERS FROM YOU GUYS

Dear Cracked,

My friends and I were highly offended by the idiotic "School Manual" (ish #312), featuring girls engaged in brainless conversation. My friends and I don't stand around smacking gum and our brains are bigger than a pea.

THE TOILETRIES WE REALLY WANT

My name is Mr. Spock, welcome to Star Drek 101. The turn of the 21st century brought chaos to civilization. At the 125th Olympiad, a member of the U.S. Dream Team refused to wear the Nike logo on his uniform. He was suspended from the team for violating the spirit of the Olympics. This caused the Dream Team to lose a game.

This loss set off a chain of events that resulted in World War III and a collapse of civilization. Mankind teetered on the brink of the Second Dark Age.

THE TREFARENA!

STAR DREK-

Captain, how do you like the new souped-up Exitprize with all the new weaponry?

Actually I preferred the old ship. Instead of blowing our enemies out of the sky, I gave long-winded speeches, similar to Mr. Spock's introduction, and bored them to death.

I miss the good old days too, when I wore that cool visor instead of these ocular implants. I used to stand out in a crowd, now I'm just another pretty face wearing contacts.

Did you hear there's life on Mars?

I wonder if they have CRACKED and Playboy.

Captain, look what's on the History Channel. It's the Borg!

being attacked by a
Borg ship!

BLAM!

WALTER
BROGAN

HALLNET
HALLNET

KLINGO
MAKE-UP
2. 1984

Captain, the Borgs have some kind of invisible shield that phasers can't penetrate. A ricochet went through the vortex and back in time where it shot down an airplane!

The FBI is gonna have a helluva time figuring that one out.

Fire the Quantum Torpedo!

We are the Borg, you will be assimilated. Resistance is futile.

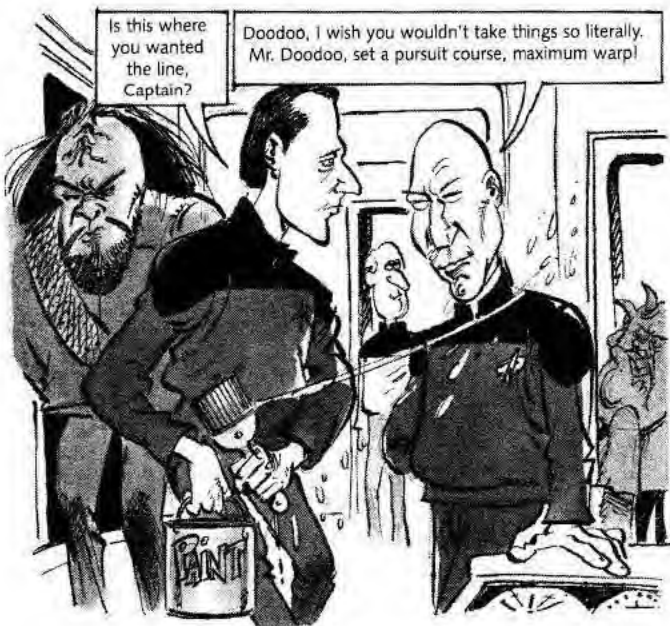

Assimilate this!

Aboard the Exitprize.

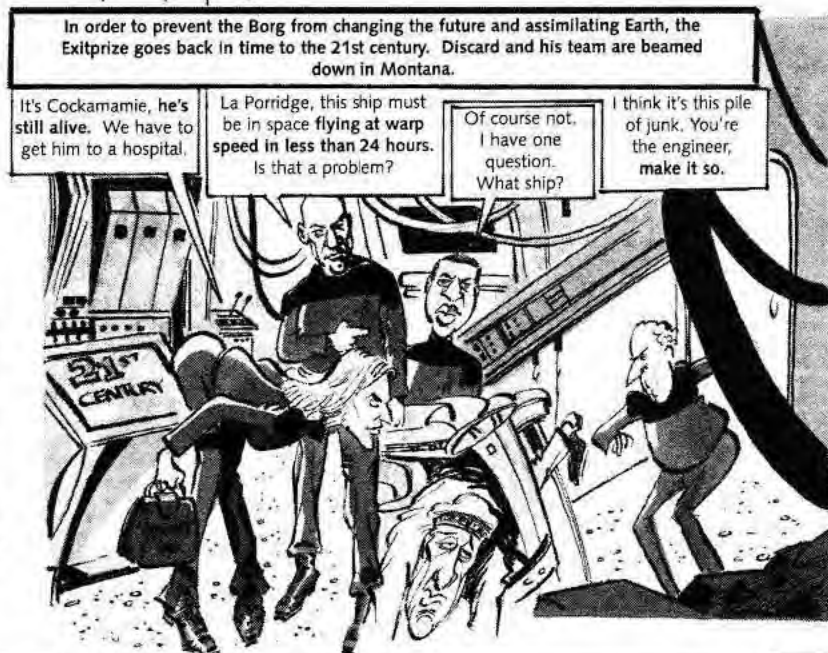

One of the Borg ships has broken through our defenses and is travelling back in time. It is headed toward Earth. Jean Puke, you are not to pursue. That's an order. The exitprize can't do any time travel until it has its 300 light year oil change.

We can't let the Borg get to Earth and change history. A line must be drawn here.

Is this where you wanted the line, Captain?

Doodoo, I wish you wouldn't take things so literally. Mr. Doodoo, set a pursuit course, maximum warp!

In order to prevent the Borg from changing the future and assimilating Earth, the Exitprize goes back in time to the 21st century. Discard and his team are beamed down in Montana.

It's Cockamamie, he's still alive. We have to get him to a hospital.

La Porridge, this ship must be in space flying at warp speed in less than 24 hours. Is that a problem?

Of course not. I have one question. What ship?

I think it's this pile of junk. You're the engineer, make it so.

This man has been hurt in an explosion!

There's a lot of that going around. This IS Montana, the home of the Unabomber.

I'm Jean Puke Discard.

My name is Rugby. Is that a phone in your pocket or are you just glad to meet me?

Captain, this is Piker. The Borgs are attempting to take over the ship. We tried everything to stop them: phasers, Raid, No Roach, but nothing works.

If we can land a Klingon on Platonius, you'd think our scientists could come up with an environmentally sound insecticide to rid the universe of those pesky Borgs. As soon as I straighten out the 21st century, I'll return to the ship.

Aboard the Exitprize.

Piker, we've got a problem. The Borgs are beating the crap out of us.

Huh, that is a problem. Give the order for an orderly retreat.

Resistance is futile.

That's futile!

I'm new here. I was just assimilated.

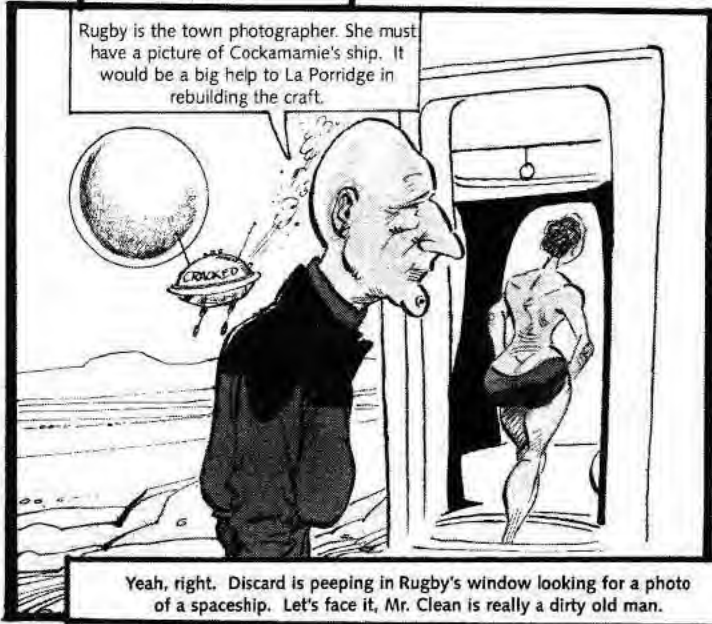

HALP!!!

Barf, this isn't what I mean by an orderly retreat.

Montana

Rugby is the town photographer. She must have a picture of Cockamamie's ship. It would be a big help to La Porridge in rebuilding the craft.

Yeah, right. Discard is peeping in Rugby's window looking for a photo of a spaceship. Let's face it, Mr. Clean is really a dirty old man.

Aboard the Exitprize, DooDoo has been captured.

You will be assimilated. Resistance is futile. I am the brains, the ambition, the beauty. I am the Borg. That patch on your arm, it's human flesh. You will feel sensations you never felt before.

You are correct, I do feel a new sensation. With all the cables you stuck in me, I feel pain. YAAAAHHHHH!!

The Borg have taken control of engineering, the shuttle bay, the bowling alley and the video game room. They also captured DooDoo. They have also stopped up all the toilets on the ship.

That figures. Borg waste matter is made up of cables and burnt out batteries. Even Liquid Plumber won't go through that.

They're re-routing the deflector conduits and converting the deflector dish into an antenna.

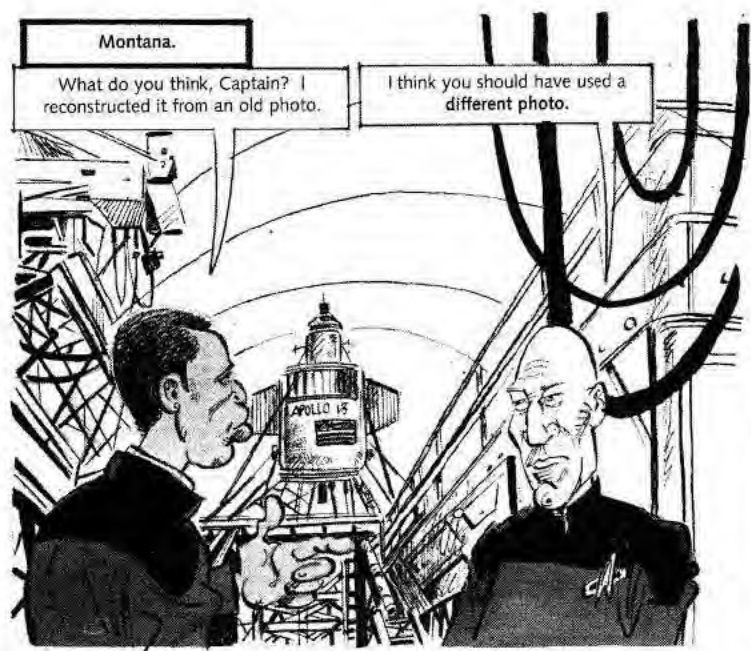

We have to stop them. With a dish that size they'll get over 300 channels. Our monthly cable bill will skyrocket.

Look at them, they're like a swarm of ants. There's only one way to stop them. I'm going to order Troy to initiate a self-destruct mode.

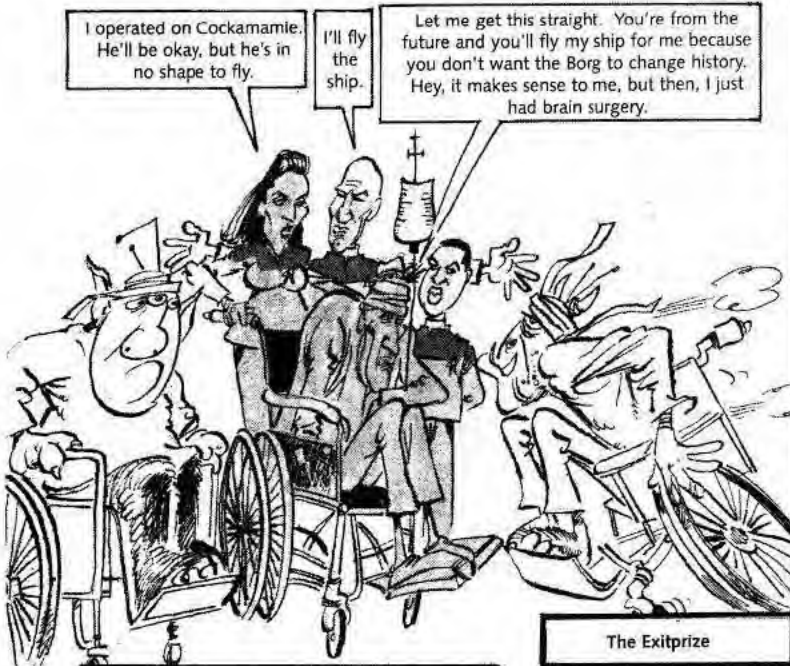

Yeah, that will get rid of them, but it will get rid of us as well. No wonder you never made Captain.

Montana.

What do you think, Captain? I reconstructed it from an old photo.

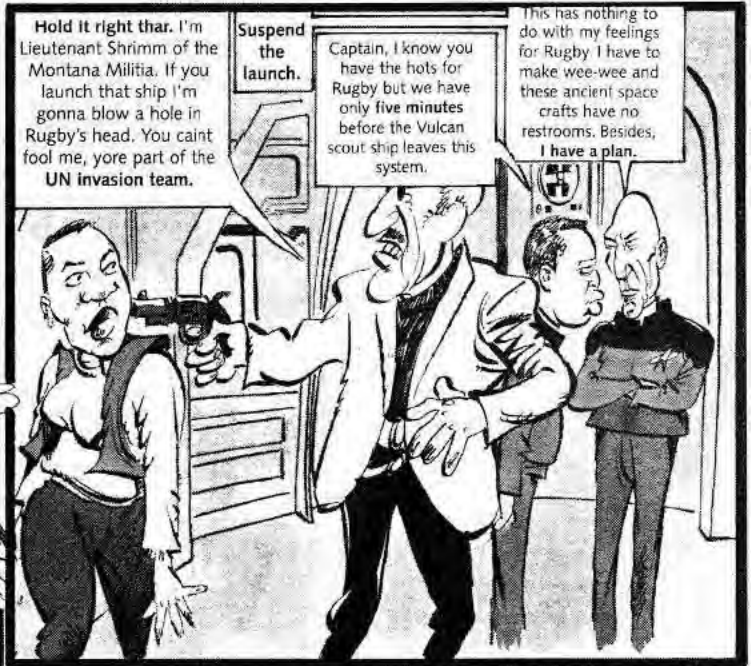

I think you should have used a different photo.

I operated on Cockamamle. He'll be okay, but he's in no shape to fly.

I'll fly the ship.

Let me get this straight. You're from the future and you'll fly my ship for me because you don't want the Borg to change history. Hey, it makes sense to me, but then, I just had brain surgery.

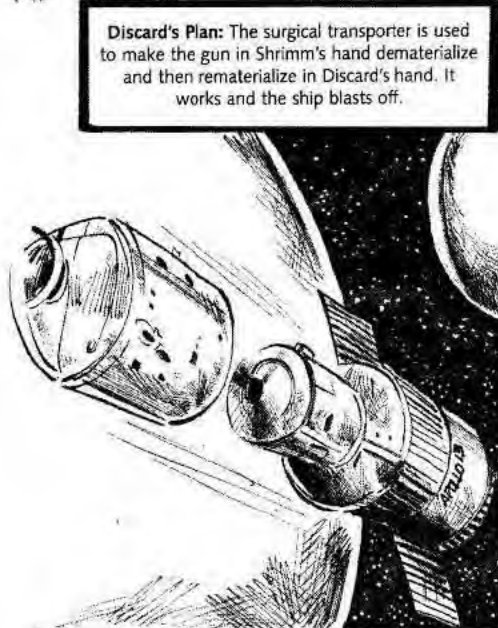

Hold it right thar. I'm Lieutenant Shrimm of the Montana Militia. If you launch that ship I'm gonna blow a hole in Rugby's head. You can't fool me, yore part of the UN invasion team.

Suspend the launch.

Captain, I know you have the hots for Rugby but we have only five minutes before the Vulcan scout ship leaves this system.

This has nothing to do with my feelings for Rugby. I have to make wee-wee and these ancient space crafts have no restrooms. Besides, I have a plan.

Discard's Plan: The surgical transporter is used to make the gun in Shrimm's hand dematerialize and then rematerialize in Discard's hand. It works and the ship blasts off.

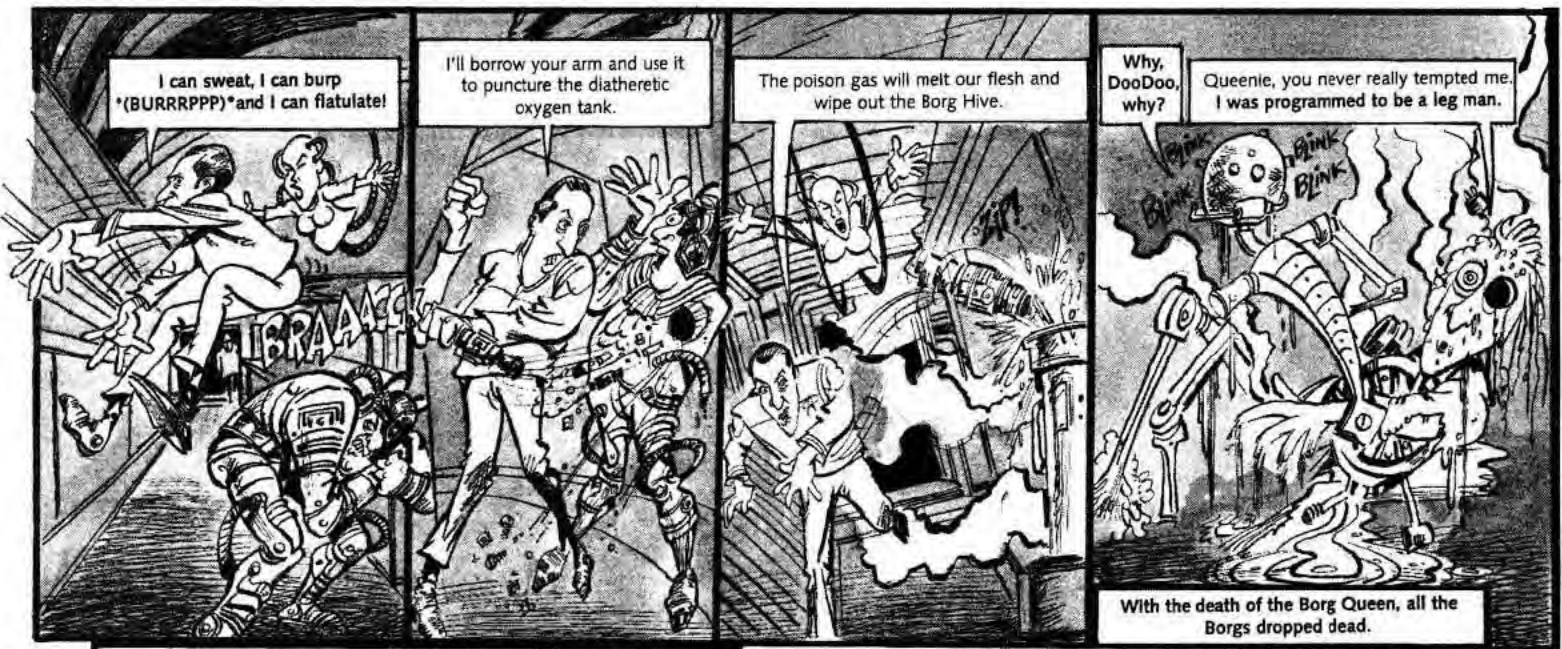

The Exitprize
I feel different, I have flesh all over.

DooDoo, a universe of sensations await you. Just give me the Exitprize. Let me into your mind.

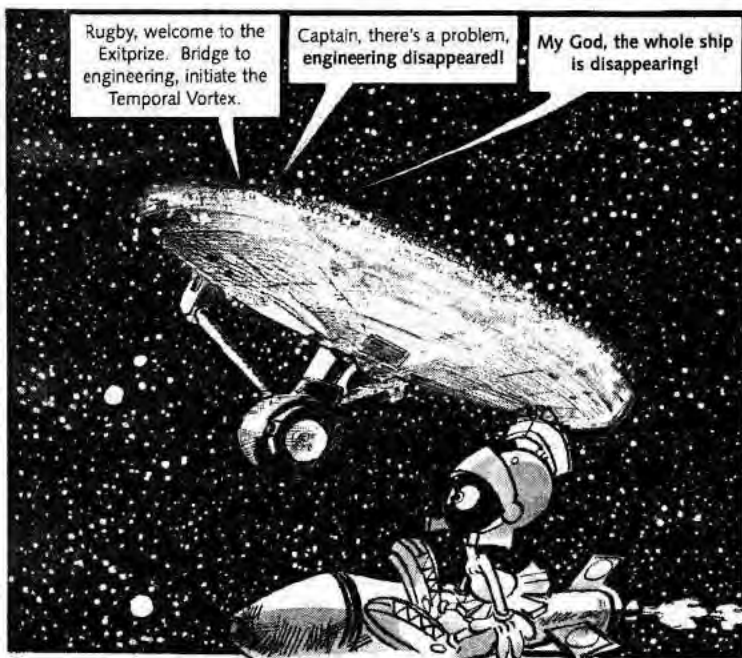

Don't get so close, you're making me perspire, and my STP 24 hour deodorant isn't very effective with flesh.

I can tell, yeech!

Montana. The Vulcans spotted Cockamamie's craft and followed it back to Earth.

The hospitals are filled with people getting hair replacement surgery, chemical peels and liposuction. But what about young schmucks? Don't they get a chance to have medical enhancements? They do now....

Surgery

Capectomy

Procedure: The surgical removal of a backwards baseball cap from a young male head. Most often used when the young male has his first job or college interview.

Benefits: Shampoo and water are now able to penetrate follicle membrane, resulting in a more hygenic appearance.

Possible Side Effects: Up to one year of "hat hair," a condition where the hair resembles soiled shag carpeting.

Headphonectomy

Procedure: The surgical removal of headphones from the ears by use of wirecutters and 47 Q-tips.

Benefits: Former headphone wearer will now be able to hear everything that people say; only to realize nobody really has much to say.

Possible Side Effects: For up to six months, former head-phone wearer will bob his head around like he's still listening to music.

WRITER: MARK MORELLI
ARTIST: PETE FITZGERALD

for Slackers

Pant-Lift

Procedure: Having low hanging pants lifted and placed securely above the waist with a mechanism called a "belt," covering up exposed underwear.

Benefit: Will magically erase the look of contempt on adult faces when they see you.

Possible Side Effects: None, although you'll no longer be tempted to wear flashy boxer shorts.

Parent Repellent

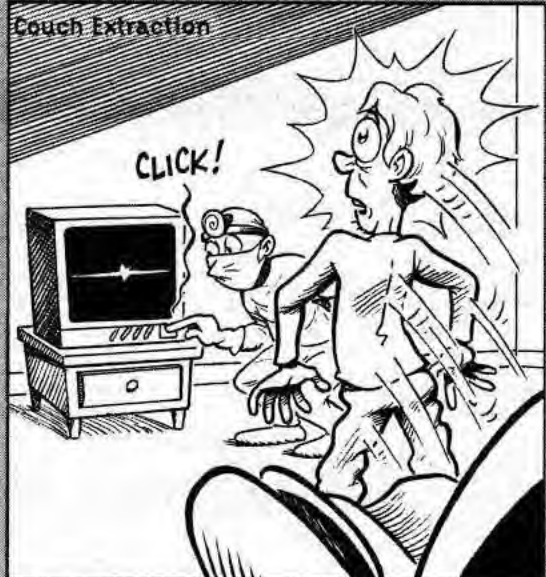

Procedure: A do-it-yourself procedure involving a specially-mixed CD with loud, aggressive rap music. Within five minutes parents will be out of the house.

Benefits: You can yank down your pants, put your headphones back in, stick your baseball cap back on your head and sit on the couch all day long.

Possible Side Effects: Parents trying to be "cool" tell you that they like the rap CD.

Couch Extraction

Procedure: You've been unable to get off the couch since the Super Bowl. A specialist enters your home and turns off the TV, eliminating the cause of your ailment. Within days you'll figure out how to get up on your own.

Benefits: You'll begin to recall your past life, friends, family and a job.

Possible Side Effects: After remembering your past life, you'll remember why you found comfort in sitting on the couch all day watching TV.

Skin Toner

Procedure: No drugs or cancer-causing sunlamps are used in this procedure that gives a little color to your pale skin. It's simple—a knockout babe comes to your house, you get excited and ask her out. She rejects you in such a deeply humiliating way that you're red with embarrassment for up to a week.

Benefits: Your skin won't look sickly and pale.

Possible Side Effects: Emotionally, you'll be sick and pale and will fear beautiful women until you spend six years in therapy.

STOSHUS Believe It Or Not MUSEUM

Snugglehead, Florida

To compete with the popular chain of Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" museums across the country, entrepreneur Stoshu Toeskin opened his own chain of museums dedicated to the fantastic and incredible. But due to insufficient funding and the fact that the Ripley's people had already acquired all the amazing things in the world, Mr. Toeskin had to settle for items that were slightly less amazing. Following is a sampling from the museum's brochure.

The Amazing Opening Umbrella!
See this amazing little device that opens and unfurls into a barrier used to shield oneself from rain. It is capable of opening and closing countless times! Let the kids try it, too!

The Man Who Swallows Swords & Glass: Watch this remarkable fellow swallow swords and jagged chunks of glass, then vomit blood and collapse to the floor, holding his stomach and screaming for 911! Your kids will never forget the sights and sounds of a man dying before them.

Freaks! Stare at "The Boy With The Pimples And The Braces", gasp at "The Woman With Glasses", and be sickened by "The Man With The Forehead smudge"! The memories of these startling anomalies will haunt you forever!

Meet The 92,642,810th Tallest Man In The World: It's shocking! He's not quite the tallest man in the world, but Mike Qum is up there! Standing at a full 5' 11", the sight of him will take your breath away! Photos with this unnatural behemoth are allowed.

Pile Of 15 Million Toothpicks: In other museums, you passively view millions of glued-together toothpicks in the shapes of cars or the Eiffel Tower. Boring! Visitors at our pile use imagination to dream how the toothpicks would look glued together to form a boat, an airplane or just anything!

Very Hard Rocks!
Marvel at our breath-taking collection of 8 very hard rocks! They can only be broken with a sharp rap from a hammer or when forcefully thrown against concrete.

TH'END

An increasing number of school systems are introducing mandatory uniform policies for students. The aim is to reduce peer pressure to wear expensive brand names...

...and discourage colors associated with gangs.

Uniforms may be OK for pampered, wussy, wedgie-butt private school rich kids, but for hard-core gangstas and homegirls? Amongst rebellious, skateboard-surfing, suburban, punk, grunge dudes and dudettes? Is it practical, let alone possible?

Wally

Cool School Dude Duds Fashions

We here at Cracked have examined the issue and found a solution: close the schools. When that was rejected we decided to let both students and faculty members design their own student uniforms.

WRITER: BARRY ZEGER & GREG GRABIANSKI ARTIST: WALTER BROGAN

School uniform that the kids want...

Built-in speaker inside helmet that constantly plays dialogue clips from Melrose Place, Beverly Hills 90210 and other popular TV shows, movies and commercials so students can keep up-to-date on the latest cool attitudes.

For Girls, an expandable mid-section for frequent teen pregnancies.

Bulletproof Vest.

Built-in, self-inflating pillow for sleeping in class.

Wrist-mounted spray paint cannon for easy graffiti creation.

Built-in gun holster.

Built-in rollerblades.

Built-in leg casts for when students break their legs rollerblading.

Uniform completely waterproof, so students may shower after gym class completely clothed to avoid exposure of their underdeveloped or lard-laden bodies.

SEE IF I CARE THAT YOU'RE PREGNANT, AMANDA! WELL, I DON'T! I'M GOING OUT WITH JACKIE AND WE'RE GOING SNOWBOARDING.

EAT QUAKER OATMEAL. WOMEN LOVE MEN WHO EAT QUAKER OATMEAL. IT'S JUST PLAIN SEXY.

Retractable fake face to allow sleeping during class.

Front of shirt covered in rearrangeable letters and numbers so student can spell out name of his or her favorite band. In a week, when student no longer likes the band, student may spell out a new band name.

ATOBSZY
MN7543

Section of sleeve removable to expose tattoo.

6 by 4 inch erasable board mounted on wrist for writing down answers to tests and quizzes.

Cigarette lighter built into thumb of glove.

Extra long index finger of glove, for the convenience of weight-obsessed bulimic girls.

One gloved hand on all male uniforms permanently sewn to crotch, so boys may constantly grab themselves in public, emulating their favorite rap stars.

Student uniform that the school officials want...

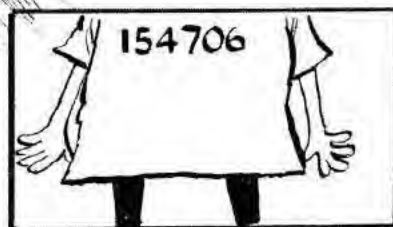

Potato sack to mercifully cover up ugly, awkward and pimple-encrusted teenage heads.

Optimal Uniform: Bars (Slightly more expensive)

Heavy-duty tape around the mouth.

Prison numbers emblazoned across chest and mug shot-ready.

Standard straightjacket with arms safely strapped down.

Powerful leg-irons bolted to floor.

Flow Match

Nuclear Holocaust Match

Again Match

Dismemberment
Match

Fighters will utilize a mix of different disciplines including tae-u-down, tap-dancing, shootuinnahheadfighting and beat-you-with-a-club-untilyou-die fu.

Bloodcade: Everybody Dies!!! is promoted by the U.B.A. Promoters finally found a location for this event in spacious Mudswamp, Mississippi after it was banned in 49 states and several planets. Stories on this controversial sport have appeared nationally on 20/20, Geraldo, CBS Evening News, Hard Copy, A Current Affair and Live with Regis & Kathie Lee.

(Note: We apologize to Kathie Lee for that unfortunate bodyslamming incident... but the crowd seemed to enjoy it.)

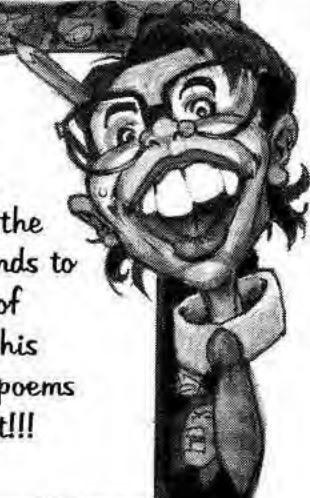

This event will be available on pay-and-pay-and-pay-per-view for $39.95 (per minute). Satellite dish owners can kiss our butts.

The promoters for this event bear no responsibility whatsoever for any psychological problems suffered after viewing this program. We can't help it if you're a wussy. Now go change your diaper.

Bloodcade! Order it now or Die!!!

FROM THE EDITORS: DECLARATION OF DESTRUCTION

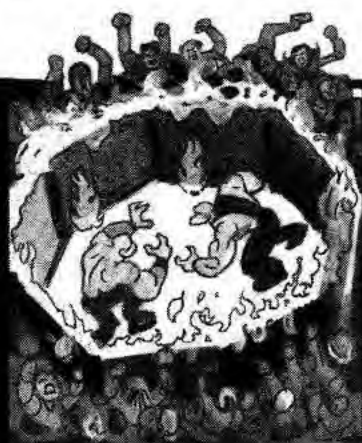

Fans make personal choices about how much blood and guts they want to see, which is why pay-and-pay-and-pay-per-view was created. We don't care about the safety of our fighters because they want to kill. Each one of our fighters demands to maim and disfigure people! It's his right! If a fighter wants to rip off the head of his opponent and punt it 30 yards... it's his right! If a fighter wants to punch his fist through an opponent's liver... it's his right! If a fighter wants to recite love poems while prancing around in a wig and high heels... well... um... okay... it's his right!!!

A LULL IN THE ACTION IN LAST YEAR'S U.B.A. CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT.

U.B.A.: Rules & Format

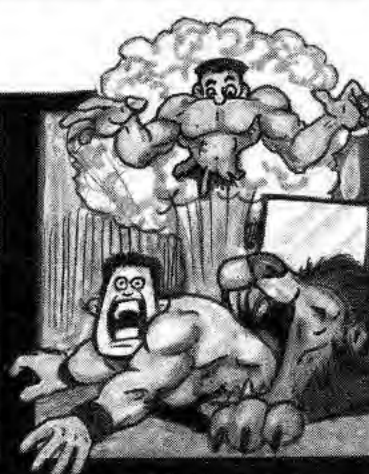

The Ring:

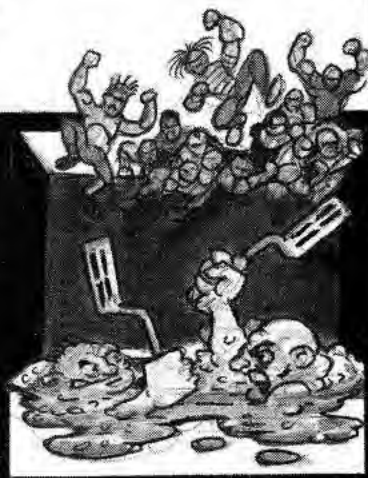

An enclosed flaming octagon, 30 feet in diameter.

The eight walls are surrounded by solid steel spikes and an electrified fence...

The surface is solid concrete. Certain areas contain trap doors to dangerous pits, slippery oil patches and hidden land mines.

Format

Each competitor fights until several body parts have been hacked, mangled or blown off... or until he is incredibly dead. Any fighter left standing at the end will be mashed to a gooey pulp by the crazed fans who paid money to see blood!

Rules

There are no rules!!!! (Okay, maybe a few)

1. No rounds, no mercy, no surviving.
2. Each match has a time limit, but the fans are allowed to lob in grenades if it gets boring.
3. Killing the referee after a bad call is encouraged.
4. No name calling. That might hurt someone's feelings.
5. A fighter must prove he is deceased before his corner man can throw in the towel.

Meet the fighters!

It's that time of year when everyone's much poorer and always sorely disappointed. Is it tax time? No. It's Christmas. And it's just not the lousy gifts you get that's so upsetting. It's the lousy movies, as well. A few are playing at the Cracked Mall. And, as you'll see, they've each been...

I have kidnapped your son. I want two million dollars in fifties and hundreds. No new bills. No consecutive serial numbers. No marked bills. The money will fit into two model #6007-42(a) Samsonite suitcases with heavy-duty titanium alloy shells, and fortified steel handles. If you have trouble getting all this, then any old money in a couple paper bags will do. Also, while you're out, could you pick me up a roast beef sandwich and a bag of M&M's? I'll get ya back, later.

This is incredible!

UH! HOWEEEEEE

That they've kidnapped our son?

No. I finally figured out how to use my e-mail. Let's call the police.

How will you get our kid back?

We're gonna hang out in your house, eat your food, watch your TV, nap on your couches and pretty much give the kidnappers whatever they want.

How will that get our son back?

Don't say anything rash!

Don't worry. In his line of work he deals with union leaders and businessmen, making him perfectly qualified to negotiate with hardened criminals.

It won't. But at least it gets us off the streets. It's a jungle out there. Hey, the phone's ringing.

GIF ME DOLLY!

Never!

Do you mind! I'm trying to watch a movie!

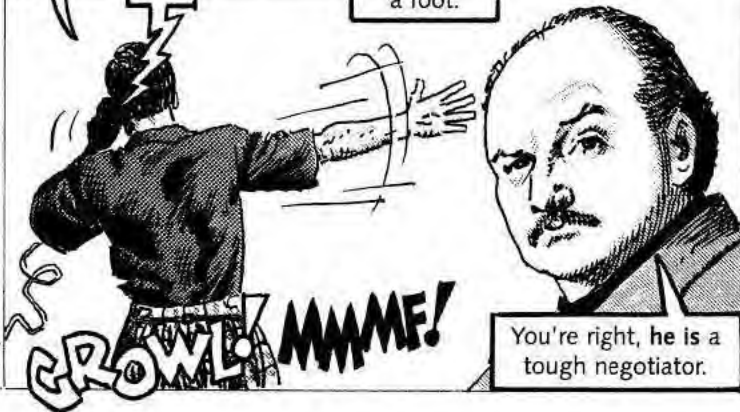

Gimme my son back!

No!

Then how 'bout half of him?

I'll give you a foot.

A leg!

You're right, he is a tough negotiator.

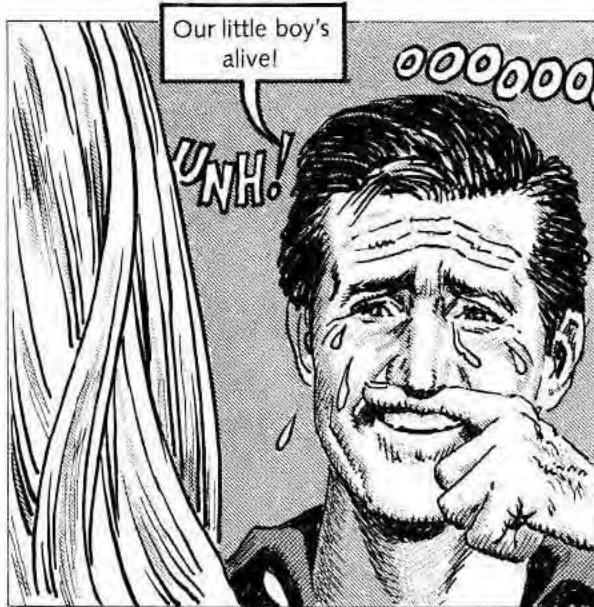

How do I even know my son's alive?

Listen.

Dad, you jerk, get me the hell outta here!

HOW DOES THE GUY WHO DRIVES THE SNOWFLOW GET TO WORK IN THE MORNINGS?

Our little boy's alive!

OOOOOOO

UNH!

I need to get on TV to talk to my son's kidnappers!

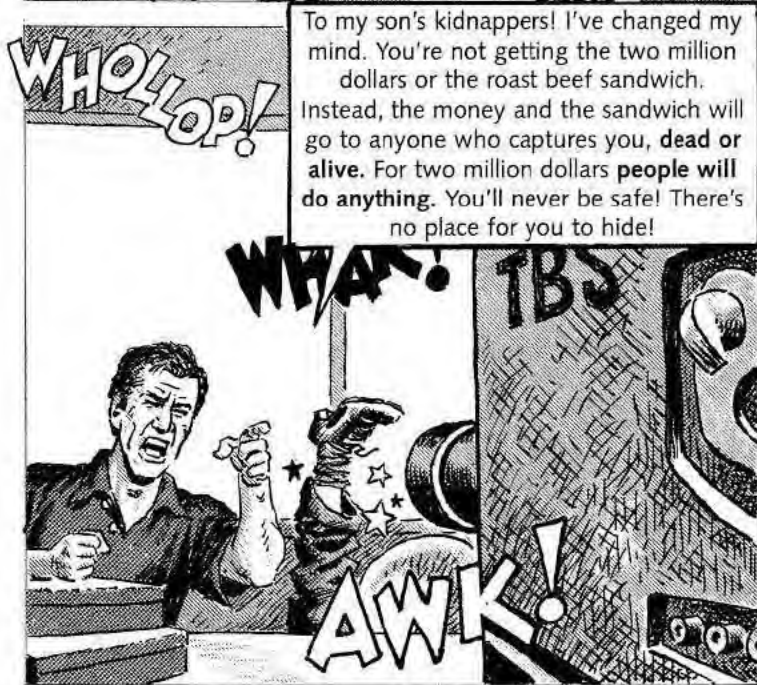

Wouldn't it have been easier to use a telephone?

UAPH!

TELEVISION NEWS STATION

THUMP!

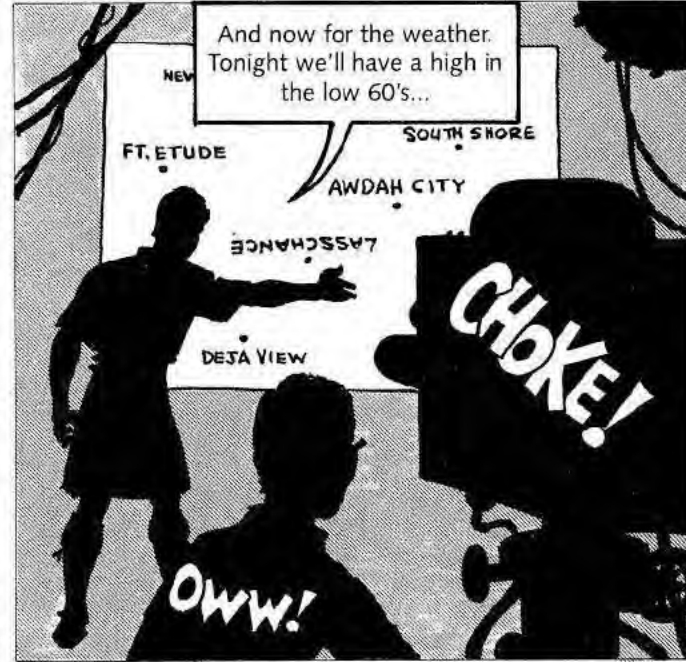

WHOLLOP!

To my son's kidnappers! I've changed my mind. You're not getting the two million dollars or the roast beef sandwich. Instead, the money and the sandwich will go to anyone who captures you, dead or alive. For two million dollars people will do anything. You'll never be safe! There's no place for you to hide!

Well, Tom was right. He said people would do anything to get their hands on that two million dollars and they did.

No.

Did it work? Is our son free?

Then what happened?

UGH!

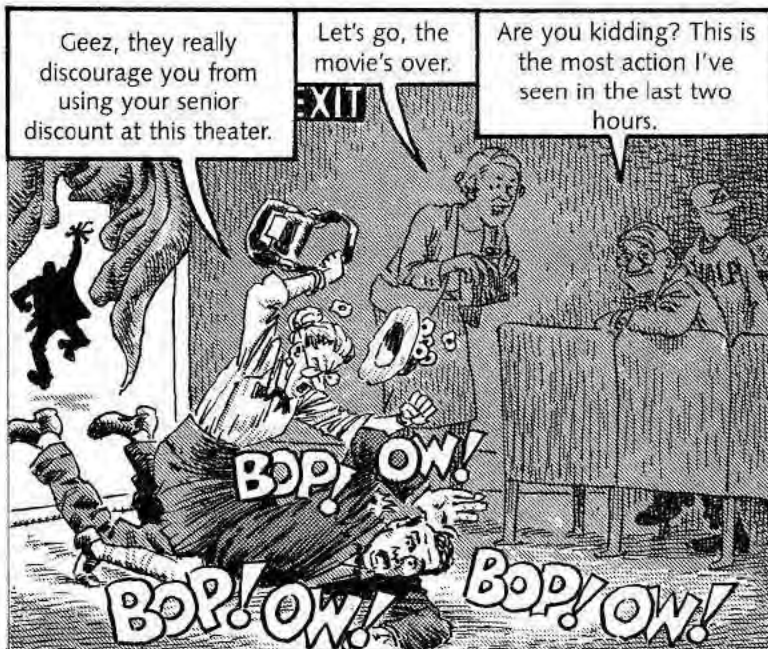

The genius told millions of people he was carrying around two million dollars. So after his broadcast a crowd waited for him outside the network and mugged him.

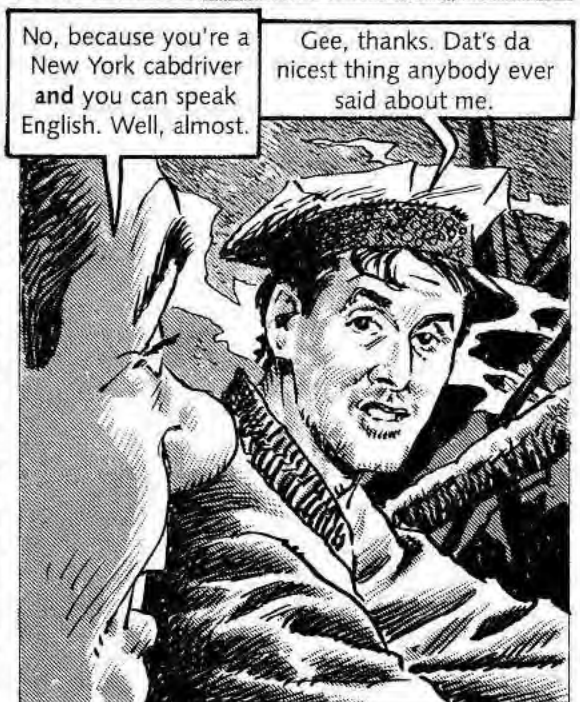

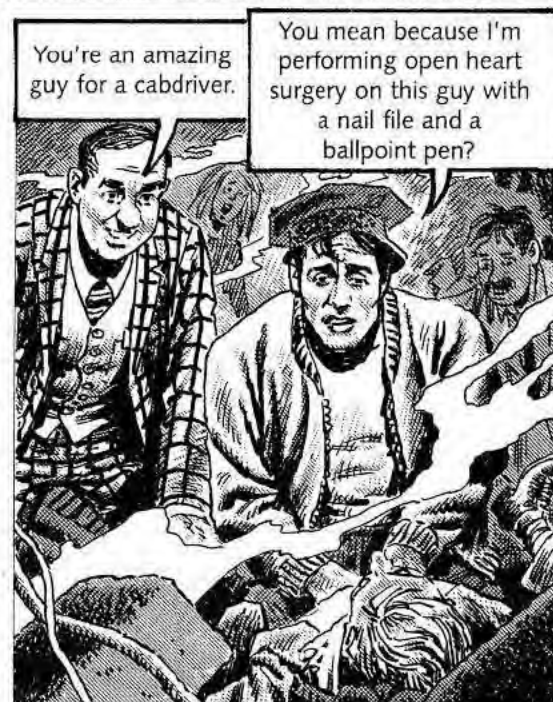

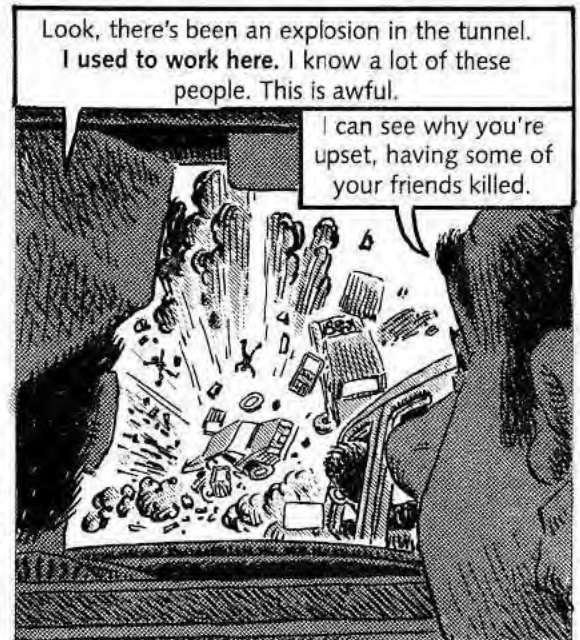

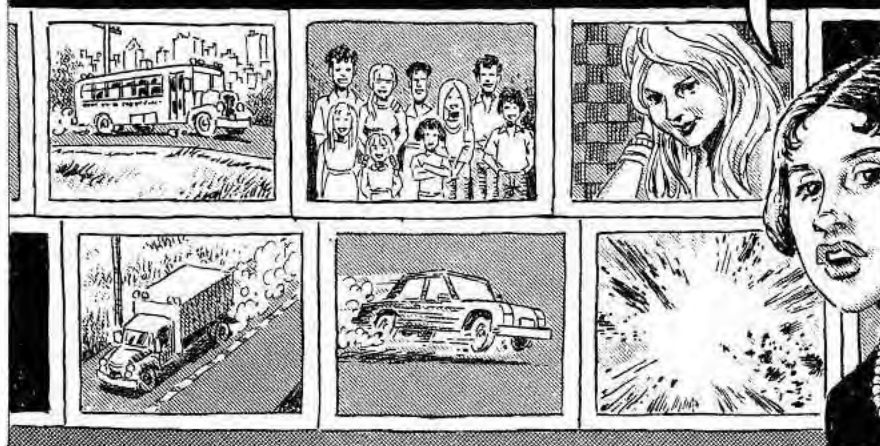

THEY NEARLY KILT ME!

OOO! OW!

BOP!

Okay, let's see what's happening in the tunnel today. We have a busload of juveniles being taken to jail, a couple of families, a sexy lawyer, a truck carrying illegal explosives, a gang of skinheads fleeing from the cops in a stolen vehicle which has just crashed into the truck with the explosives. Just another typical day in the Big Apple.

Both ends of the tunnel are sealed and there's a toxic fire inside. We have to blow the roof to save the survivors.

Turaluralura, you were fired. I'm in charge and I won't blow the tunnel.

How 'bout we order pizzas from Domino's. They guarantee a half hour delivery. They'll break into the tunnel and save us the trouble.

We don't know how many people are in the tunnel. I just can't order a bunch of pizzas. I have a budget, you know!

Chief, I mean, Ex-chief, you can borrow my vest and blow up that damned tunnel. I got everything you need: nitro, dynamite, TNT, plastic. The works.

Then you see the logic of my plan.

Logic, shmogic! I just dig explosions!

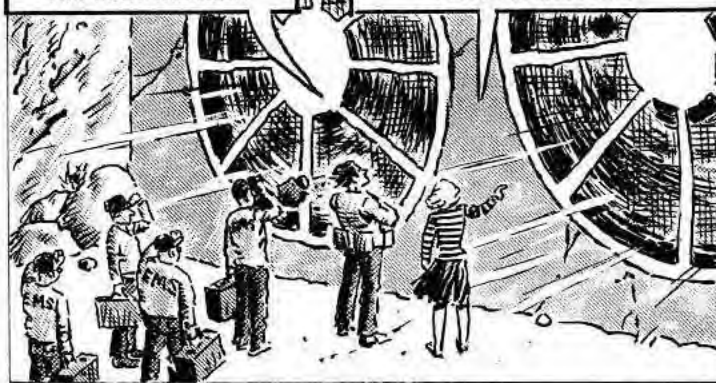

How come I was fired for blowing up stuff and you still have your job?

You were a supervisor. I'm in the union. If they tried to fire me we'd shut the city down.

I have to get in so I can blow the roof.

The only way in is through these exhaust fans.

Why can't the people come out through the fans?

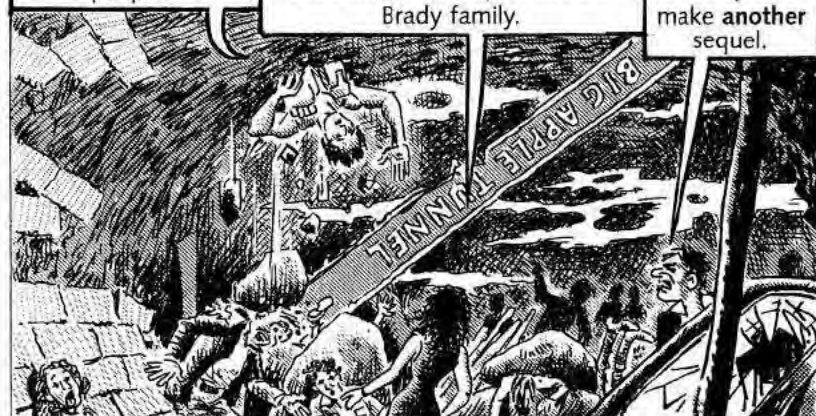

Because then we'd only have a fifteen minute movie and I wouldn't get a chance to take off my shirt and show off my muscles.

Hi, my name is Zit Turaluralura. I'm here to rescue you people.

I'm Mudeline. When you made your grand entrance you knocked down part of the ceiling and wiped out the Brady family.

Good work! They were going to Jersey to make another sequel.

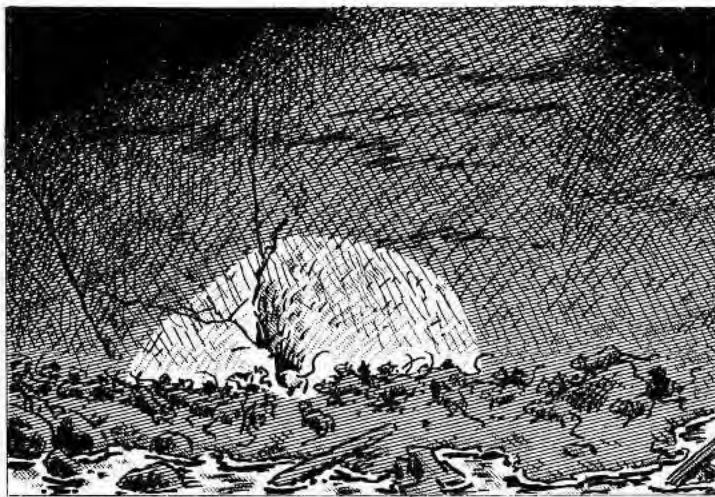

The roof is starting to leak. What can we do?

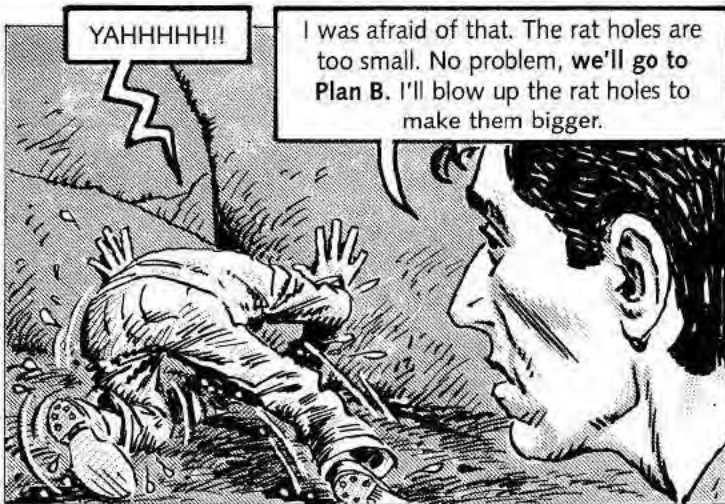

Do you know the story of the Dutch boy and the dike?

Watch your dirty mouth! There are children present!

Don't worry, EMS has the finest computers in the world. Unfortunately, they haven't figured out how to use them yet. So we'll go to Plan A: follow the rats. They'll lead us out.

YAHHHHH!!

I was afraid of that. The rat holes are too small. No problem, we'll go to Plan B. I'll blow up the rat holes to make them bigger.

Couldn't you have waited until I got my head out of the hole?

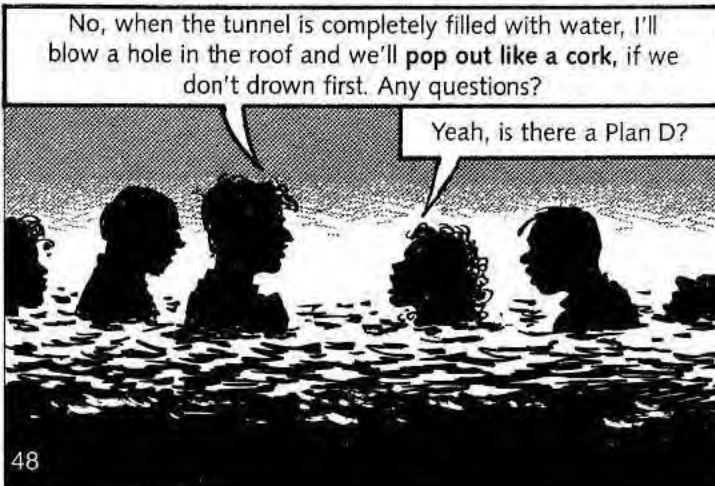

So much for Plan B. Now we go to Plan C.

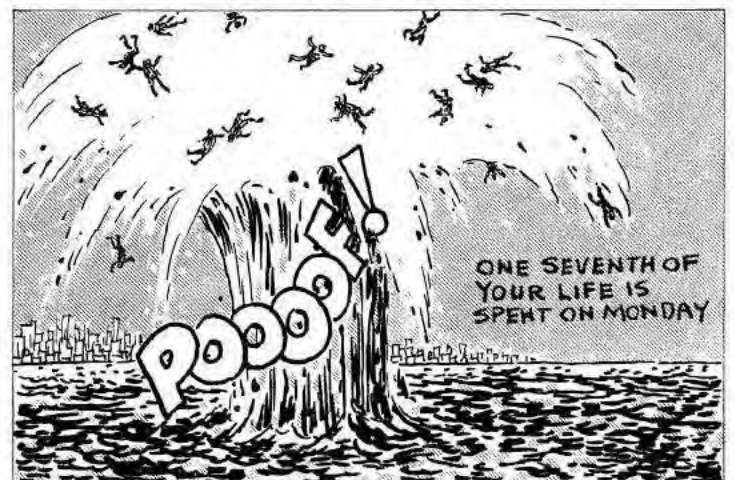

Did you ever see the way a champagne bottle pops its cork?

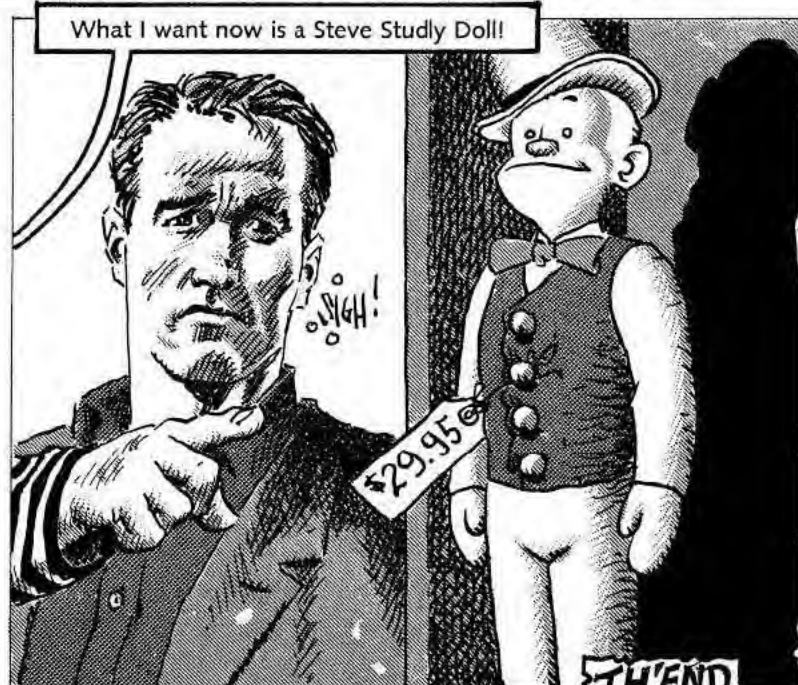

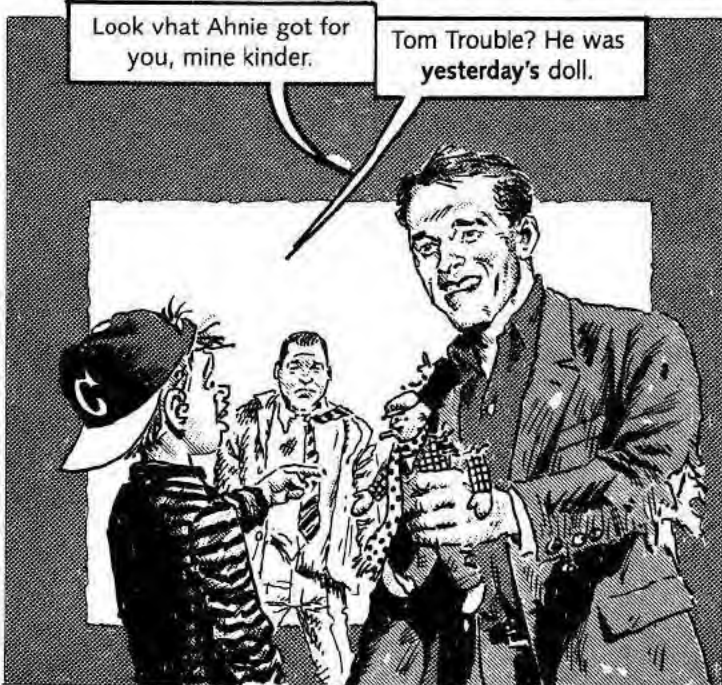

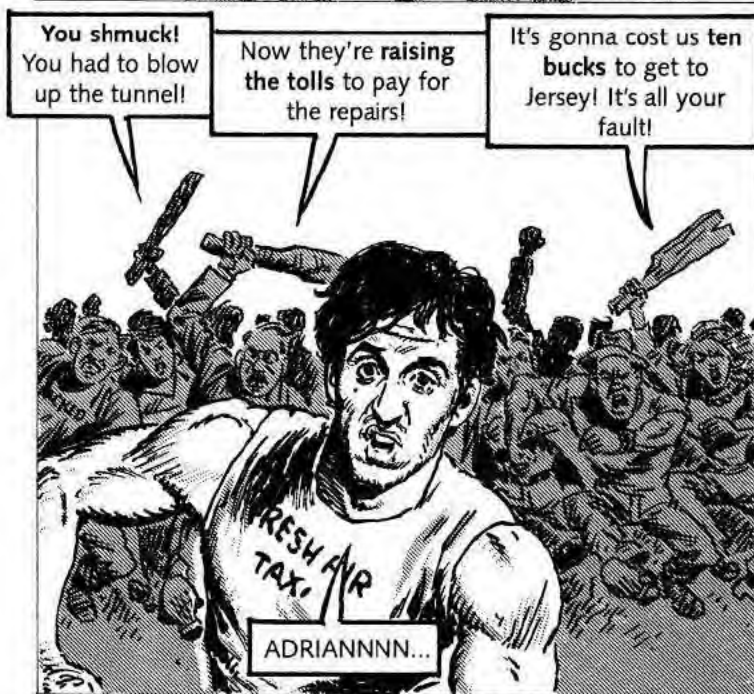

We're going to have a party?

No, when the tunnel is completely filled with water, I'll blow a hole in the roof and we'll pop out like a cork, if we don't drown first. Any questions?

Yeah, is there a Plan D?

IF YOU THINK THERE'S GOOD IN EVERYONE... YOU HAVEN'T MET EVERYONE!!
